Chief Executive Officer

Saskatoon Regional Economic Development Authority (SREDA)

SREDA

The Saskatoon Regional Economic Development Authority (SREDA) is a non-profit organization that began as one of the first independent economic development agencies in Canada. We help entrepreneurs start and expand businesses, support Indigenous economic reconciliation, assist in the attraction of new business to Saskatoon, encourage local business growth, coordinate collaborative development across the Saskatoon Region and provide insight on the local economy.

Vision

Our vision is to be the foremost and inspiration contributor to a growing economy where all people thrive.

Values

We trailblaze

We boldly lead the creation of new, game changing programs and services.

We are agile

We confidently embrace change and frequently adapt to new circumstances.

We believe in partnerships

We eagerly collaborate with partners to accomplish big things.

We strive to be epiconic

We are driven to create epiconic work that leaves everyone in awe.

SREDA is currently seeking their next Chief Executive Officer. The CEO will be responsible for driving the organization forward under the direction of the Board of Directors, building long-term relationships with stakeholders, public/private sector partners and members, and creating an organizational culture of excellence and innovation. The CEO will take a leading role in the alignment of value propositions, apply strategic focus and deliver results, assess principal risks of SREDA and ensure high standards of corporate social responsibility.

The successful candidate will be an outgoing and charismatic individual, who has solid business acumen and strives for future growth in a target-driven environment. The position also requires a proven ability to network, build relationships and develop strong partnerships and alliances. The CEO will be a logical thinker and clear communicator who can work under tight deadlines and respond to diverse opinions throughout the workplace and community: Additional qualifications include:

- Experience working with a Board of Directors and healthy understanding of board governance.
- Track record of working with and building partnerships with Indigenous Communities.
- Successful leadership experience and proven experience achieving results in a professional, multi-stakeholder environment.
- A background in economic development will be an asset.
